

AWARE's Comprehensive School and Community Treatment program will help your child stay on track

The Comprehensive School and Community Treatment (CSCT) program helps children with special needs thrive in the classroom or other school-based settings. A wrap around approach, AWARE's specialized staff works directly with the identified children, their parents, teachers and school personnel to fulfill goals named in each individualized plan. Because AWARE believes home life is significant to children's success in school, CSCT services may also be integrated into the home as needs arise.

AWARE's CSCT services are available in Anaconda, Billings, Bonner, Great Falls and Helena. Be sure to ask about Home Support and Family Support (individual or group therapy) services as well.

CSCT will help your child with

- 1. Normalization – Children learn best by living and learning in a normalized environment. Allowing youth to stay with their own family, school and classroom encourages normal growth and development.
- 2. Empowerment – Children succeed in school when they receive necessary support and positive feedback on their performance and behavior. Empowering parents on the education process and offering a feeling of affiliation with the school further builds confidence.

Your child may be eligible to receive funding for CSCT

AWARE's CSCT program is designed to serve at-risk youth who meet the state of Montana criteria for serious emotional disturbance. Funding is available for families who use Medicaid. Alternative funding sources may include individual school district payment, private pay, third party payment, etc.
